

travelTim

The young compact travel alarm clock in a fresh design reminds you with powerful, pulsating vibrations, when it is time to get up.

HUMANTECHNIK – Your partner for audiological products

When you know that you will wake up on time, your sleep will be the more reviving. »travelTim« is a companion you can depend upon – not only on holidays.

Due to its handy and modern compact design, the new battery-powered vibrating alarm clock »travelTim« will fit even into the smallest holiday luggage.

It reminds you punctually with strong vibration impulses when you have to wake up in the morning, for example if you do not want to miss the hotel breakfast.

A discreet travel companion

With its vibrations, »travelTim« will wake only you – discreetly, without a loud alarm. Therefore it is suited for places where others may wish to remain undisturbed, for example when having a little sleep in an aircraft or a train.

On your journey you can carry it in your clothes pocket and for the night you place it between the bedstead and the mattress.

Practical

The closed back cover protects the adjusting elements for the basic settings (alarm time, alarm mode, snooze) and only the button on the front remains accessible. This button activates the display illumination or interrupts the alarm.

- Electronic digital clock, network-independent (micro AAA battery)

- Strong, pulsating vibrations
- Vibration or buzzer alarm (switchable), additional: LED-display
- 24-hour display with illumination
- The protection cover for the controls can be also used as a stand
- Supports the connection of additional signal transmitter modules: flash module MF-1, switch module MS-1, acoustic module MA-1 or vibrating pillow
